

Senate Votes to Consider Poll Tax Ban, Approves Sen. Holland's Constitutional Amendment Rather Than Javits Statutory Approach

19. S J Res 29. Make a former home of Alexander Hamilton in New York City a national shrine. Mansfield (D Mont.) motion that the Senate consider the resolution. (Mansfield had announced that Holland (D Fla.) would offer an anti-poll tax constitutional amendment as a substitute.) Motion agreed to 62-15: R 26-0; D 36-15 (ND 29-1; SD 7-14), March 26, 1962. A "yea" was a vote supporting the President's position. (See story p. 404)
20. S J Res 29. Mansfield (D Mont.) motion to table Russell (D Ga.) point of order that it was unconstitutional to substitute a constitutional amendment for other legislation. Tabling motion agreed to 58-34: R 17-15; D 41-19 (ND 35-3; SD 6-16), March 27, 1962. The President did not take a position on the motion.
21. S J Res 29. Mansfield (D Mont.) motion to table Javits (R N.Y.) amendment to ban the poll tax by statute instead of by constitutional amendment. Tabling motion agreed to 59-34: R 20-11; D 39-23 (ND 17-23; SD 22-0), March 27, 1962. The President did not take a position on the motion.
22. S J Res 29. Approval of the resolution as amended by Holland's (D Fla.) constitutional amendment banning the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections. Resolution approved 77-16: R 30-1; D 47-15 (ND 39-1; SD 8-14), March 27, 1962. (This was 15 "yeas" more than the two-thirds necessary to approve a constitutional amendment.) A "yea" was a vote supporting the President's position.
